Results-driven and people-oriented, I am feeling most comfortable in agile development environments with focus on delivery. My lifelong passion is the Internet and I love ideating and crafting modern, intuitive UX for web applications that solve real-world problems. Besides my regular job as a frontend developer, over the decade I have successfully delivered multiple freelancing projects using a wide array of tools and technologies for the web and I have participated in more than a dozen hackathons to train exactly those cognitive muscles.
